The EMCT Master's Degree (Euromediterranean Master in Culture and Tourism) aims to provide students with the necessary knowledge for them to take decisions related to the management of tourism, culture & heritage activities in the Mediterranean area. The Master's Degree course is open to anybody with an official university qualification (degrees and diploma from foreign countries must enable the applicants for the Master to be admitted to postgraduate studies). The Euromediterranean Master in Culture and Tourism is organized by the University of Bari with the international and scientific cooperation of the Community of Mediterranean Universities (CMU), the Jean Monnet Euromediterranean Center of Excellence and with the financial support of the EMUNI Foundation. Center EMUNI is a public institution established by the Government of the Republic of Slovenia on 11 October 2007. Its aim is to overcome boundaries and differences, as well as build a mutual understanding among Euro-Mediterranean countries; to create an academic network among higher education and research institutions; to establish an Euro-Mediterranean University. The Euromediterranean Master in Culture and Tourism develops a network of specialised postgraduate study programme among Euro-Mediterranean universities. International comparability will be ensured with respect to credits, courses, as well as scientific and professional qualifications. As for the fields of study, special emphasis will be given to topics related to the Euro-Mediterranean region. The study programmes will be taught out by several professors coming from different networks (CMU and Jean Monnet Euromed co-founders of the Euro-Mediterranean University) and Universities such as: Italy (University of Bari, University of Salento, University of Bergamo), Slovenia (EMUNI and University of Maribor), France (C.I.R.E.T. of Aix-en-Provence), Spain (University URV in Catalonia), Albania (Università Nostra Signora del Buon Consiglio of Tirana), Egypt (University of Cairo and Tanta University)

Structure:	400 hours of frontal lessons (16 ECTS in Slovenia)
	112 hours of alternative lessons (on-line)
	694 hours of individual research
	294 hours of stage + study for final test
Total of	1.500 hours corresponding to the total of 60 ECTS

The EMCT master's degree dissertation consists in a research or in a professionally-based assignment related to one of the programme's course modes and in which the students will show what they have learnt and the skills they have acquired. Courses are taught in English. Optionally, some subjects may be taught also in French/Italian.
